Approximately nine million people in the world today share your birthday. But it’s YOUR day, so forget all those other people and focus on WHAT HAPPENED on that day in history, besides the single most important thing- obviously your birth!

Using whatever sources you choose, but a minimum of two different types, research the day of your birth to find out at least FOUR different events of importance in American history that occurred on the day you were born but between the years of 1760 and 2000. You must have at least one event from each century (18th, 19th, 20th). No more than one of the events may just be someone’s birthday. You will memorize these events.

List the events in chronological order and for each event give the year that it occurred, the source of your information, what happened, in not more than three sentences, and why you chose this event.

Event: Your Birth

Date: ____________________ Time of birth:____________________

Where:______________________________________________________________

Historical Events that happened on your birthday:

Event #1:_____________________________________________________________

Date:______________________ Source:__________________________

What happened:

Why:
Event #2: _______________________________________________________________
Date: __________________________  Source: _____________________________
What happened:
Why:

Event #3: _______________________________________________________________
Date: __________________________  Source: _____________________________
What happened:
Why:

Event #4: _______________________________________________________________
Date: __________________________  Source: _____________________________
What happened:
Why: 